PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I am an IT specialist with a strong interest in managing network infrastructure and IT systems, backed by robust mathematical and analytical thinking, a logical approach, and problem-solving skills. I focus on identifying effective and optimal solutions by systematically analyzing the root causes of technical issues. I am committed to ensuring the stable, secure, and uninterrupted operation of network and IT systems, maintaining a keen attention to detail. I aim to apply my theoretical and practical knowledge of computer science to the management of network infrastructures and the efficient operation of IT systems. I quickly master new technologies and prioritize the continuous development and practical application of my skills. My focus is on effective teamwork, agile adaptation to innovation, and adding value through the efficient management of IT infrastructures.
